Dear Mr. Michael Powell:

Please return family time to our televisions!

Monday evening, March 31, 2003 at approximately 6:45 pm (Mountain Time) Fox Channel 10 aired the sitcom Will & Grace. During the episode a man and woman (homosexuals) who were co-authors of a book were getting their pictures taken for the book. The woman photographer passionately kissed the woman author and then humped her (what she called a "dry hump"). This was during a time when families are watching. Why is sexual material like this allowed? Why are you not doing anything? Please Please Please do something about it! We request that an inquiry be done to check out the sexual material and that they be fined. This is clearly sexual and should not have been aired!

Sincerely,

What's Next?
